Abs-Track — How to use the app

A simple guide for coaches and the people they coach

Updated 7/26/2026 · Coach download only

Welcome

This short guide explains how Abs-Track works for you (the coach) and for your clients. Keep it handy when onboarding someone new or answering “where do I…?” questions.

For you — the coach

Sign in with your coach Google account (or Coach — Helna in local testing).

- Command center: review daily check-ins, meal photos, and approve or flag what needs a note.
- Top navigation: jump between Command center, Members, Calendar, Plan delivery, and Settings from any coach screen.
- Members: open a client’s profile to see goals, health notes, program dates, and messages.
- Calendar: view appointments, book clients, and block times, days, weeks, or recurring weekdays.
- Plan delivery: pick a client from the Clients tab, then build or update training and nutrition for the week.
- Templates: use + Gym template or + Home template to start from a full week, then tweak for that person.
- Publish: when the week looks right, Save & publish training and nutrition.
- Send the plan: on the client plan page, Prepare delivery !’ Preview PDF, email, WhatsApp, or copy the link.
- Settings: set brand colours and an optional note that appears on every member’s home screen.
- Download this guide anytime from Settings (coach only).

Sending a weekly plan (coach)

Publishing and sending are two steps — publish first, then deliver.

- Publish the training week and nutrition week for that client.
- Open their plan hub !’ Prepare delivery (one pack covers both).
- Preview the PDF — cover, guidelines, workouts, nutrition, grocery table.
- Email sends a link (needs email configured). WhatsApp opens a ready-to-send message.
- The link lets the client open the plan without signing in. They sign in to log workouts and food.

For active members (your clients)

Clients sign in with Google and land on their home dashboard.

- Home: streak, progress, today’s focus, and your optional coach note.
- Appointments: book 30-minute slots with your coach; get email, calendar file, and join link.
- Check-in: weight, sleep, energy, soreness, and an optional meal photo — sent to you.
- Workouts: today’s session with videos; tick sets as they go (saved automatically).
- Nutrition: calorie/protein targets, tips from you, and a food diary (search or add manually).
- Messages: chat with you in the app.
- New plan banner: when you deliver a week, they see a notice and can download the PDF.
- Magic link from WhatsApp/email: open the plan pack and QR on the cover; sign in for logging.

For someone new (no plan yet)

Prospects and brand-new members see a quieter app until you publish their first week.

- Prospects: landing page !’ philosophy !’ short quiz. High-intent leads appear under Members !’ New enquiries.
- New member account: they sign in with Google and get an empty dashboard.

- They can still message you and start a food diary.
- Once you publish training + nutrition (and optionally deliver the PDF), their home, workouts, and nutrition fill in.

Quick tips

- Always publish before Prepare delivery — delivery uses the published week.
- Personal details (goals, allergies) flow into the welcome letter and health notes on the PDF.
- Grocery list prints as a neat table so it fits on one page for shopping.
- If a WhatsApp or email link stops working, prepare a new delivery (old links can expire when revoked).
